

Doug Wingeier is Professor of Practical Theology, Emeritus, at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary. He is a former missionary and seminary teacher in Singapore, Samoa, Palestine, Philippines, and Hong Kong, and the author of Marks of Mission, Working Out Your Own Beliefs, Troublesome Bible Passages, and other books. He is a frequent writer for Adult Bible Studies Teacher.

Charlene Kammerer is a retired United Methodist Bishop. Married to Leigh, she is mother to Chris and “Nana” to 4 grandchildren. She cares deeply about the unity of Christ's Church.

Ken Johnson served as a pastor for 43 years in the WNC Annual Conference. He is the author of four books on a variety of subjects. Since retirement he has traveled to Indonesia five times as a Volunteer in Mission, written newspaper columns and stories for five years, and served as a boat tour guide for fifteen years.

Bill Everett is Professor of Christian Social Ethics, Emeritus, at Andover Newton Theological School. Author of Blessed Be the Bond: Christian Perspectives on Marriage and Family, God's Federal Republic, and many other books and articles, he now focuses on poetry and woodworking.

Matt Holmes MD is a psychiatrist in Waynesville with special interests in schizophrenia and addiction. He and his wife Amy have their hands full with 4 sweet children. He loves to go fishing.

Wilson Strickhausen is a retired Air Force Chaplain and serves on the staff at FUMC as the Associate Pastor. Wilson assists in worship, preaching, pastoral care, and organizes prayer groups and services. He currently teaches the Coffee Talk Sunday School Class.

Doug Wingeier is Professor of Practical Theology, Emeritus, at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary. He is a former missionary and seminary teacher in Singapore, Samoa, Palestine, Philippines, and Hong Kong, and the author of Marks of Mission, Working Out Your Own Beliefs, Troublesome Bible Passages, and other books. He is a frequent writer for Adult Bible Studies Teacher.

Charlene Kammerer is a retired United Methodist Bishop. Married to Leigh, she is mother to Chris and “Nana” to 4 grandchildren. She cares deeply about the unity of Christ's Church.

Ken Johnson served as a pastor for 43 years in the WNC Annual Conference. He is the author of four books on a variety of subjects. Since retirement he has traveled to Indonesia five times as a Volunteer in Mission, written newspaper columns and stories for five years, and served as a boat tour guide for fifteen years.

Bill Everett is Professor of Christian Social Ethics, Emeritus, at Andover Newton Theological School. Author of Blessed Be the Bond: Christian Perspectives on Marriage and Family, God's Federal Republic, and many other books and articles, he now focuses on poetry and woodworking.

Matt Holmes MD is a psychiatrist in Waynesville with special interests in schizophrenia and addiction. He and his wife Amy have their hands full with 4 sweet children. He loves to go fishing.

Wilson Strickhausen is a retired Air Force Chaplain and serves on the staff at FUMC as the Associate Pastor. Wilson assists in worship, preaching, pastoral care, and organizes prayer groups and services. He currently teaches the Coffee Talk Sunday School Class.