Bingo Needs Us

“October is crisp days and cool nights; a time to curl up around the dancing flames and sink into a good book.”
...Anonymous

Or, it's a great time for my favorite other obvious choice...going to Bingo. I can read any time of the day or night, but lately my Bingo options have been less readily available. Not so long ago I could play Bingo locally any day of the week and twice on some days, but alas and much to my regret, that is no longer true. Due to the economy some say, or who knows why, one by one the Bingo halls where I live have closed their doors. Only if I drive to the nearest large city, which is 45 minutes to an hour away, do I still have choices. In my hometown there are only two games available where there used to be a plethora of them. Don't you love that word? It tickles me to say it, plethora. It rolls off the tongue and means an over abundance. Anyway, I admit I'm spoiled in that I'm used to being home from Bingo in ten minutes or so, stripped and ready for bed in another fifteen. I hate driving for an hour or more to get to a Bingo game and doing so on a regular basis does not appeal to me. That brings me to my topic for this column which is SUPPORTING

Olive Oil

■ The Mediterranean's Secret

As the foundation of the Mediterranean diet, olive oil has long been acknowledged as a key to health and longevity. With its antioxidants and polyphenols, olive oil prevents the formation of free radicals in the cellular structure, enhancing the immune system and slowing the aging process. Celebrity beauty expert Joanna Schlip understands the way olive oil can benefit a person's skin. While working in Italy Joanna began incorporating olive oil into her life. Almost instantly, she could feel the difference in her skin and that of her clients. Schlip is now the spokesperson for a new anti-aging skin care system made in

YOUR LOCAL BINGOS so that they don't all disappear as so many of my favorites have done.

I am a fan of any and all Bingos and I've certainly contributed my share to keep them up and running. Casinos back the larger Bingos that I attend in Vegas so I don't fret as much about them. It's the local Bingos around the country that need all the publicity they can get, and also certainly our continued support. I play in Vegas whenever I'm there, but at other times I depend on the Bingo games near me to satisfy my Bingo craving. I go regularly and introduce new players to the game. Each place has something to offer that I can enjoy. The other players do the same as me I'm sure, but it's often not enough. I have watched and worried as the crowd at each Bingo hall grew smaller, and as each withered and died, I mourned its loss. These days there are too many other enticements to draw players and especially the younger generation. Regular casinos are everywhere and the lure of hitting the big one, winning millions, has overpowered the locally grown small town Bingos. Don't get me wrong, I love going to big casinos, and I go all the time. However, I also immensely enjoy playing Bingo where just like at the bar in the old TV show, Cheers, everyone knows my name.

I firmly believe that there's room for all kinds of Bingo games—big, small, and everything in between. There's nothing like the thrill of playing for a million dollars at a big bucks Bingo. There's also something to be said for getting the chance to yell, “Bingo!” at the smaller games. Let me know which type of game you prefer by emailing me at homemailbox@windstream.net and I promise to email you back. Until next month, may Lady Luck blow you kisses as you dance out the door with dollars. Win big.

Reproduction Bronzes

Q: Any info on these bronze statues? They have been in my family for generations. Only mark we can find is “Moreau” plus something indistinguishable. —Mary, Hallieford, Va.

A: The early 20th-century female figures seen in photos are handsome but not in top shape. One has a clearly broken and repaired arm. Another has a lyre that has separated from the body, plus no base. The third has a wooden base that may be a replacement and has seen better days.

We see from the base-less figure that it was cast in the lost wax process. During this process a mold is made and the piece can then be copied many times. If/when a license is granted, molds or casts are produced from originals. Decorative Romantic bronzes like these were a rage at the last turn of the century. Foundries churned out copies by the carload to meet demand.

Following the Moreau link, Hippolyte-Francois Moreau (1832-1917), Auguste Moreau (1861-1910) and Mathurin Moreau (1822-1912), all Salon exhibitors, produced Romantic figures. Those “indistinguishable” base markings could be helpful in identification and may ID the foundry, as well. To this day, Hippolyte, particularly, is recast, using the lost wax process. Incidentally, some new recasts are very, very good. Original sculptures that sell at auction have passed extensive vetting. Today, turn-of-the-century copies or versions thereof are decorative items and sell as such. If you think you may have originals, pay for a credentialed art appraiser to take a look.

Old copies can sell for $100 to $400, depending on how and where sold. Condition is vital, especially with those fairly recent pieces. Broken and repaired bronze, unless original, is a hard sell.

FYI: Art Bronzes by Michael Forrester (Schiffer, $95) is an excellent visual reference to art bronzes, artists and foundries, early to post World War I.

Dear Deliah,
 How lucky you are to be able to celebrate your parent's special anniversary. This Breast of Veal recipe was one of my Mom's favorites. Enjoy the veal, enjoy the cake and enjoy the very special day. —Annie

BREAST OF VEAL WITH BREAD STUFFING

- 4 lbs. breast of veal
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 6 T. margarine
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 c. water
- 4 c. soft stale bread crumbs

Anniversary Celebration

Dear Annie,
 My parents will soon be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. We are a very small family and I would like to make them a special dinner for this occasion. They love veal, so maybe you can suggest a recipe for their favorite entrée. By the way, I am going to make them Mom's Chocolate Cake, a recipe that was in your column a couple of years ago. —Deliah from Atlanta, Georgia

- 1/2 c. chopped parsley
- 6 medium zucchini, cut diagonally in chunks
- 1 tomato, cut in wedges
- paprika

Have your butcher cut a pocket in the veal and crack the bone for easy carving. Cook the onion and celery in 1/4 cup margarine for about 5 minutes. Add the poultry seasoning, salt, pepper and the water. Bring to a boil. Add the mixture to the crumbs with parsley. Mix well and use to fill pocket in the veal, pressing the mixture in well. Skewer the opening closed. Put in a roasting pan and spread with remaining margarine. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Baste, uncovered, in a pre-heated oven at 325 degrees for 2 1/4 hours, basting frequently with pan juices and adding a little water if pan becomes too dry. Cook zucchini until partially done. Put in pan with the veal and sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Roast the meat for 20 minutes longer, or until the meat and zucchini are done. Add tomato wedges and let stand until hot. Pour pan juices over the meat. Garnish with parsley. Makes 5 servings.

ATLANTIC CITY NEWS

■ New attractions at the AC Hilton Casino Resort

Atlantic City Hilton Improvements Continue

A $20 million Renovation continues at the Atlantic City Hilton Casino Resort. Construction is already completed on four new restaurants. On the gaming floor, the Hilton has replaced 700 outdated and underperforming slot machines with 400 new models that are expected to be much more popular with gamblers. Even the slot machine seats have been changed, now more plush and comfy. Outside, the Hilton gave its summer beach bar a facelift; a larger stage, a new lighting and sound system, a new menu and a rock-music format were added. There's also a new VIP section that features five couches and bottle service, creating an upscale atmosphere to the party scene. In addition to the physical changes, the Hilton is going through a marketing transformation designed to diversify its customer base beyond its typical demographic—female slot players ranging from 60 to 65 years old. Like other casinos in town, the Hilton hopes to attract a younger, free-spending crowd. The youth movement is reflected in the Hilton's new restaurants. A burger bar, a coffee shop and a Pan-Asian bistro and bar are among the new attractions. The centerpiece restaurant is Simon Prime, a contemporary steakhouse operated by celebrity chef Kerry Simon.

Losing to Win at Taj Mahal

Every table in the poker room at the Trump Taj Mahal Casino Resort had been packed for days. The reason flashed on a video screen above the cashier's cage. The "bad beat" jackpot stood at more than $600,000. For those unfamiliar with poker jargon, a "bad beat" is when a player loses a strong hand to an opponent who has one that's even better. Many poker players relish sharing their bad-beat stories with anyone who will listen. To qualify for the jackpot, the losing hand must be a four of a kind or higher, and both the winner and loser must use both their hole cards to make the hand. The holder of the losing hand gets half the money, the winner gets 25 percent—plus the pot—and the other 25 percent is divided among the other players at the table who were dealt into that round. The jackpot builds with each hand dealt that does not produce a bad-beat winner. Only Texas Hold 'Em games qualify for the jackpot, which means people who prefer other forms of poker are abandoning their favorite games for a chance at the big bucks. The previous record bad-beat jackpot in AC was $553,958, and was won in January by a player at Caesars Atlantic City.

by The Dream Lady
Sacred animals

■ Use your wisdom

Dear Dream Lady,
I had the wildest dream of my entire life! I just had two serious surgeries and then stayed at a dear friend's home for two weeks in recovery. Once I got home, I had this dream the first night. I dreamed my nurse-friend, my husband and I had bought an old farmhouse about an hour away in a friendly community. On our first night, my friend saw a cougar in the backyard. As I looked out the window, I saw five wolves eating the hindquarter of a deer! And there were numerous kittens in the bushes watching the wolves. Then, a medic who had an accident in his ambulance knocks at the door and says he needs his head wrapped. While this was going on a pregnant neighbor came over and my friend started delivering her baby in our bathtub. Then a customer (from my business) comes in to buy something and lastly a man shows up in our backyard gutting a deer for us! I woke up yelling, "When is this going to end?" What can you do with this dream?

Tricia Maclean, Cincinnati, Ohio

Dear Tricia,

Wow! You did have an outrageous dream! I studied every dream book in my extensive library—here are the results. The home reflects that you are comfortable with yourself, but possibly in need of repair. Cougars have many symbols, but yours shows strength in adversity. Wolves symbolize strength and treachery: five symbolizes the human body and also restlessness and unpredictability. Kittens symbolize innocence. The medic in the wrecked ambulance displays unpredictable events that are ahead. The pregnant woman symbolizes new life and adventure. The customer tells me you will do fine once you are back at work. The man and deer are a warning not to be too trusting of others. Deer (and cougar) are sacred animals in dreams telling you to be cautious and use your wisdom and strength of character as you get your life back to normal. —Dream Lady

Dear Dream Lady,

I have read your column for years and I know you can help me. I dreamed I visited my family doctor who delivered my son, now 37. For some reason I parked in a garage of my former employer, but I visited my doctor and to my surprise she had a picture of my newborn son and I on her desk. Since I thought I was one of hundreds of her deliveries, I was surprised to see that photo. After my visit, I went to retrieve my car, but could not find it even though it was only a four-level garage. Finally, someone in the garage helped me locate it. I was uncomfortable on several points, yet I was relieved to find my car.

Lisa M., St. Paul, Minnesota

Dear Lisa,

You have positive symbols in your dream so do not worry about temporarily losing your car... remember a person helped you. Guess who that person was? YOU! As a faithful reader, you know that unknown people in your dream reflect you so whatever you are involved in is because you are showing strength to get through it. Your doctor is an extremely good omen. It tells me things will get better for you. I don't see any symbolism that the garage is in your former employer's building, it sounds like you have left that behind and things will proceed well for you. —

Dream Lady

Microwave-Baked Apples with Dried Cherries

Studded with tart dried cherries, these baked apples are the perfect sweet ending to a fast fall dinner.

- 4 large (8 ounces each) Fuji or Gala apples
- 4 teaspoons margarine or butter
- 1/4 cup dried cherries
- 4 teaspoons water or apple cider
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon apple pie spice
- 1/4 cup walnuts (optional), chopped

1. With apple corer, core apples,

- but don't cut through to bottoms. Beginning at stem end, peel apples one-third of the way down. Stand apples in 8-inch by 8-inch glass baking dish or 9-inch glass pie plate. Fill center of each apple with 1 teaspoon margarine, 1 tablespoon dried cherries and 1 teaspoon water.
- 2. In cup, combine sugar and apple pie spice; sprinkle over apples in dish. Cover with waxed paper, and cook in microwave on Medium-High (70 percent power) 14 minutes or until apples are very tender when tested with fork.
- 3. Let apples stand, covered, 5 minutes. If you like, sprinkle with chopped walnuts to serve. Serves 4.

Organic Foods

■ Some Facts and Misperceptions

One of the biggest misconceptions held by consumers about organic fruits and vegetables is that they are safer, healthier and more nutritious than conventionally grown fruits and vegetables. As a matter of fact, in one questionnaire, nearly 68 percent thought this was true. How true is it?

According to Dr. C. Everett Koop, former U.S. Surgeon General, "Our food supply is not only the safest, but it is the most abundant in the world and pesticides are one of the important tools that have made that abundance possible."

"Conventional agricultural production, which relies on essential and well-tested crop protection products, should be applauded for its safety and nutritional contributions to the American diet," added Jay J. Vroom, president and CEO of CropLife America, an organization representing the developers, manufacturers and distributors of plant science solutions for agriculture and pest management.

Simply put, synthetic pesticide residues in foods are miniscule and pose no health concern.

Interestingly, until recently, the use of the term "organic" was not regulated; any farmer could use the term. In the past five years, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has created a set of organic standards, and only farmers who are certified by an outside agency can label their food "organic."

To let the public know more about the truth and fiction about organic and nonorganic fruits and vegetables, CropLife America has created a Web site devoted to uncovering misleading statements. The site can be visited at www.producetruth.org.

BUGLE WORD GAME

HOW TO PLAY: Read the list of words. Look at the puzzle. You'll find these words in all directions—horizontally, vertically, diagonally, backwards. Draw a circle around each letter of a word found in the puzzle, then strike it off the list. Circling it will show a letter has been used but will leave it visible should it also form part of another word. Find the big words first. When letters of all listed words are circled, you'll have the given number of letters left over. They'll spell out your MAGICWORD.

Facebook Bingo Game, 'Bingo by Ryzing,' Teams with Bingo Bugle to Bring an Exciting New Format to Online Bingo Players Everywhere

When Bingo by Ryzing—the only five-star rated online Bingo game housed on the hugely popular social networking site, Facebook—began to explore the idea of partnering with a major international Bingo publisher, the company had to look no further than the Bingo Bugle Newspaper Group for precisely what it needed.

“We’re part of the newest and fastest growing area for Bingo—Facebook gaming—and we wanted to create an incredible experience for Bingo players that marries the convenience of online Bingo with the socialization and cash prizes of traditional hall-style Bingo,” says David Gloss, Ryzing’s Bingo Community Manager.

“The Bingo Bugle—with its web site, publications, and the World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise— struck us as the perfect match,” Glass adds. “The Bugle will introduce our Facebook Bingo game (HYPERLINK “<http://www.ryzing.com>” www.ryzing.com) to its readers and encourage them to check us out, while we will share news and information about the Bingo Bugle with our extensive online Bingo community and thereby re-connect players to this great game and encourage them to also enjoy playing in a traditional Bingo hall.”

Bingo by Ryzing is the only Bingo game on Facebook where players can win real cash and real prizes. And let’s face it; isn’t that what Bingo is all about?

Ryzing’s Bingo game has given away thousands of dollars in cash prizes in its first month of operation alone. And Bingo by Ryzing is taking online Bingo even further, by encouraging its players to be part of a truly social community—where friends not only gather and play Bingo, but also take time to chat, share news, and make new friends around the globe. The friendly, warm, and welcoming chat community even has its own celebrity host—Mirabelle Hastings. (Learn more about Mirabelle by visiting her Facebook page: HYPERLINK “<http://www.facebook.com/MirabelleHastings>” www.facebook.com/MirabelleHastings.) Because the game is played within Facebook—a global community of more than 500 million people—players are likely to find that their friends and family members are already playing.

“This partnership between the Bingo Bugle and Bingo by Ryzing is one that is sure to benefit both online and real-time Bingo fans,” says Bingo Bugle President Tara Snowden. “I hope players from both sectors take the time to visit each others’ ‘worlds’ and experience the fun and excitement of different forms of Bingo.”

“We’re proud to partner with a premier publication like the Bingo Bugle,” says David Gloss. “We are excited to be working together to bring players the best Bingo experience anywhere.”

To experience Ryzing’s exciting new Bingo community, visit HYPERLINK “<http://www.ryzing.com>” www.ryzing.com. You’ll need a Facebook account to play. If you don’t have one, creating one is easy—and free!

BINGO LAND

This month: Art organizations rely on Bingo for funds

Bingo Among Improvements at Immigration Detention Centers

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) officials are rolling out a series of changes at several privately owned immigration detention centers, including relaxing some security measures for low-risk detainees and offering select activities such as art classes, continental breakfast on the weekends—and Bingo. Immigrant advocates who have been waiting for the Obama Administration to deliver on a promise to overhaul the nation's immigration detention system welcomed the ICE changes. Others feel the changes are a superfluous burden on taxpayers. Changes range from softening the look of the facility with hanging plants and offering detainees fresh carrot sticks, to free movement of low-risk detainees, expanding visiting hours, and providing unmonitored phone lines. The changes are planned for nine detention centers owned and operated by Corrections Corporation of America. —The Houston Chronicle

Bingo for the Arts

What do the Kentucky Opera, Louisville Ballet, and Louisville Orchestra have in common beyond the arts? All three organizations rely on Bingo for part of their fundraising. While typical strategies of raising money emphasize asking corporations and individuals to contribute, organizations such as the opera and orchestra are seeking alternative strategies. And one of these is Bingo. Long the province of churches and school auxiliaries, Bingo has broken through to the realm of high culture. With many traditional revenue sources declining or flattening out, an innocent game of chance looks better all the time. These organizations and others offer their games at Bingo City, a hulking space in Breckenridge Mall in Louisville that once housed a department store. There,

Bingo regulars can attend an opera session at 10:30 a.m. Thursdays, orchestra sessions at 7:30 p.m. and midnight Thursdays, and a ballet session at 2 p.m. Sundays. “When we first considered doing Bingo, there were board members who said, ‘Consider (our) reputation—do we really want to associate Bingo with the Louisville Orchestra?’” an orchestra executive said. “But when you consider that corporate funding is slowing down, and individual giving sometimes going down, this is more money we can try to tap into.” —Courier-Journal, Louisville, Kentucky

Bingo, Punk Rock Style

Brit-punk tunes play like an anthem, as, eyes down, the Tuesday night crowd hunch fervently over tables scattered with Bingo cards, ears cocked for the next letter-number combo that could ultimately net them a vintage Lite Brite, Spice Girls dolls (Sporty and Posh), a miniature Buddha or myriad other goodies. Welcome to Bingo of the punk rock variety. Every Tuesday night at the Ship and Anchor in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, the old school game of chance undergoes a rowdy, new age revival, drawing in everyone from hipsters to the jeans-and-flip-flops crowd that amble through Calgary's pub scene. The game is essentially played the same way as a charity Bingo: grab a dauber, wait for the call, and ink away. But with rockin' tunes being spun by a DJ and kitschy prizes mixed in with the game, punk rock Bingo is a world away from the typical Bingo hall. Prizes come from organizers who prowls thrift stores, flea markets, and garage sales to come up with off-the-wall, grunge-trendy prizes that have played a huge role in making punk rock Bingo what it is today. Other cities are starting to pick up on the game. Edmonton's come calling, as have Lethbridge and Banff, and Calgary's Broken City still hosts a weekly Bingo night. Some players visiting from Europe have pledged to bring the punk rock game back home. —The Calgary Herald, Alberta, Canada

Adapting Homes for Disabled Vets

For veterans with service-related disabilities, there are three types of grants available to modify or adapt their homes. Each grant comes with a different set of qualifying criteria.

- The Specially Adapted Housing (SAH) grant is for seriously injured veterans: loss of legs or arms or lost the use of arms or legs, blindness and more. This grant can be used three times up to the maximum amount, which is currently $63,780.
- The Special Housing Adaptation (SHA) grant is for injured veterans with other injuries: burns, loss of hands and more. This grant also can be used three times up to the maximum amount, which is currently $12,756.

• Temporary Residence Adaptation grant is meant for temporary living situations. The veteran must be eligible for either the SAH or SHA grants above and be living in a temporary situation with a family member who owns the home. This grant can be used only once. In 2010 the grant amount is $2,000 for those eligible for SHA, and $14,000 for those eligible for SAH.

It's this last grant that doesn't get a lot of notice. The Government Accountability Office recently conducted a review of the program's use and discovered that since 2006, only 18 veterans have taken advantage of this grant.

For more information go online to www.homeloans.va.gov and see Specially Adapted Housing. That page has fact sheets and a download of the application (VA Form 26-4555).

Don't miss VA Manual M26-12, which is the VA's step-by-step instructions, to help you through the process.

BOB ON BINGO

By Bob Whittmore

Attn: Bingo Managers and Employees

I know last month I mentioned a topic for this month, but something has happened in the past 30 days that has caused me to rip up this month's column and start over. I have gotten a huge amount of e-mails (to bobonbingo@earthlink.net) about the same thing. Many people feel that Bingo is getting out of hand at their hall. Let me explain in this open letter to the people who work at the nation's Bingo halls: I know it's not easy doing what you do. Managing a Bingo hall is a hard job. There are stacks and stacks of records you have to keep, often for government regulators. You have to deal with all the "ins and outs" of the game, handle payroll and take care of many, many things.

Being a caller or runner is not an easy job either. You know that over the years I have been on your side and tried to show understanding for what you do. I have often said that as much as I THINK I could do your job. I can't. I would get everything messed up.

With that in mind, let me say something directly to all of you who make your living providing Bingo for the rest of us: It's time to start enforcing the rules of conduct. It's time to get tough! Managers need to meet with all employees and state clearly that they will back their employees 100 percent in any confrontation with an unruly player. And the rest of us in the "Bingo family" will back them up also. This may be the most important point I want to make. Enforcement of the rules will NOT drive away those of us who love the game. Lack of enforcement will. Now, everyone knows I'm a noisy player, but I DON'T make any noise while the numbers are being called. I understand that many of my fellow players are older. Some have hearing and vision problems. Many get distracted easily. There is a fine line between having fun at Bingo and having TOO much fun. Many new players don't understand this and many make it impossible for the rest of us to enjoy the game. I have gotten a lot of mail lately about this.

I think I speak for all of us who love the game by saying that it's time we all work together to show the new generation of Bingo players that we are here to party but not to over-party. Therefore, I am calling on you, the managers and employees, to repeatedly, over and over, state the rules about cell phones, about over-talking, about smoking. And, more importantly, address the noise issue. Some of us are to the point where we can't stand the increased noise and smoke levels.

I hope all of my readers will back you 100 percent the next time you have to lay down the law and return order to the Bingo hall. We will give you a round of applause. We will pat you on the back and not even get mad when you don't call the numbers we need.

We simply want our fun back and it's up to you to enforce the rules already on the books...to the letter. I don't mind playing by the rules, IF the rules are enforced. I welcome your comments. Next time: Another look at our favorite game.

COMMENTS: _____

Horoscopes for October 2010

This month's featured sign is Scorpio: A righteous restlessness propels you into action...your ideas are sound. Not a time to sign or negotiate anything 16th-17th.

ARIES: March 21 to April 19 • Don't fight the power unless you want to fall ten steps back 12th-14th. The 30th is your day in so many ways!!

Lucky Days: 16-30
Lucky Numbers: 12-24

TAURUS: April 20 to May 20 • What you sacrificed for love now sees you reaping just rewards. A person meets his destiny often on the road he takes to avoid it.

Lucky Days: 2-19
Lucky Numbers: 4-13

GEMINI: May 21 to June 21 • Love inspires you, however, consider the long-term consequences of your gift before making an outrageously exotic investment.

Lucky Days: 5-28
Lucky Numbers: 7-22

CANCER: June 22 to July 22 • Family member needs more of your time to help with arrangements surrounding a sticky situation. True blessings await you the 24th.

Lucky Days: 9-19
Lucky Numbers: 2-23

LEO: July 23 to Aug. 22 • Don't allow a bitter/cantankerous person's rudeness affect your self-esteem. Ongoing pleasant changes in your sphere help you maintain a positive outlook.

Lucky Days: 2-7
Lucky Numbers: 15-32

VIRGO: Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 • Anticipating entertaining during the holidays, you ramp up home decorating plans. Exciting romantic interlude the 9th!

Lucky Days: 9-28
Lucky Numbers: 4-16

LIBRA: Sept. 23 to Oct. 23 • The decision you make during the new moon (7th) brings a long desired result during the full moon (22nd).

Lucky Days: 15-30
Lucky Numbers: 3-26

SCORPIO: Oct. 24 to Nov. 21 • No exaggeration—you were the missing component that, when put into action, made the machine work like a fine Harley Davidson.

Lucky Days: 5-9
Lucky Numbers: 6-23

SAGITTARIUS: Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 • Is there guilt associated with moving forward? Clarity comes the 16th. Plan a playful get-away with your lover for the 30th.

Lucky Days: 2-7
Lucky Numbers: 8-13

CAPRICORN: Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 • Be watchful over your bones/back health. An attractive friend gets you out and into fun where you both get noticed the 9th.

Lucky Days: 9-28
Lucky Numbers: 12-33

AQUARIUS: Jan. 20 to Feb. 19 • Don't waste energy on a no-win argument (you're both stuck in your ways) the 9th.

Lucky Days: 7-11
Lucky Numbers: 9-44

PISCES: Feb. 19 to March 20 • Someone who shares your passions ends up introducing him/herself to you. Say the word the 19th, and you're in (where you want to be).

Lucky Days: 9-28
Lucky Numbers: 22-30

NEW MILLIONAIRES

Congratulations to Virginia's TWO newest millionaires. Woodrow Galloway of Martinsville won his prize playing Powerball and Bernice Stilwel of Chesapeake won hers playing Mega Millions. Both players used the extra dollar feature in their win.

NUMBER PLEASE

Elizabeth C. of Campbell Co. asks about the Pick 3 #1-0-0. It was always her grandfather's favorite Pick 3 number. It was last out in 2009 when it had 3 wins. 6/27, 6/15, and 5/16. It has not appeared in 2010 as of yet, so you may want to keep a bit of your lottery money on it. (or just keep an eye on the winning numbers)

1st N.C. MM WINNER SOLD

Mike & Faye Manheim of Greensboro bought the FIRST Mega Millions Jackpot ticket "sold in the state." The retired business couple plan to travel across the country with their winnings. See more details about out of state lotteries on page 22 of this issue

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Eloise Baber of Chesapeake gave herself a nice birthday gift ... on her 52nd birthday she hit WIN FOR LIFE game's 2nd prize of $52,000! She matched the first 5 numbers on an Easy Pick ticket.

CANCER: June 22 to July 22 • A secret hunch becomes your ace in the hole the 9th. Relish these moments, and use the memory of the experience in the future to help put yourself in the right frame of mind when you play. Jet away to new territory 17th-19th...you won't be a stranger for long!

Best Days: 1, 5, 9, 10, 19, 28

Best Numbers: 2, 14, 23, 28, 37, 42

LEO: July 23 to August 22 • You're the lucky one the 7th. Competition's tough most of October, keeping you in the "I almost had it" club...lay low and observe the people you see as winners...chances are, you'll notice that cycles work the same for everyone, regardless of status or how much is being wagered.

Best Days: 2, 7, 10, 11, 30

Best Numbers: 9, 15, 25, 29, 32, 48

VIRGO: August 23 to Sept. 22 •

Badda-bing, badda-boom the 9th...game's got your name written all over it! A quiet and serious moment the 13th has you on edge. Where did the fun go? If you're worried, you've stepped out of your comfort zone. Chill, and pace yourself a little more. Bottom line's still lookin' good.

Best Days: 1, 5, 9, 13, 23, 28

Best Numbers: 4, 11, 16, 24, 33, 52

LIBRA: Sept. 23 to Oct. 23 • Get an early start the 8th, before anyone has the chance to grab your spot, seeing as how this can be lucky for you! In making a mad dash for your game du jour the 11th, you run across something new and amazing that pays out nicely.

Best Days: 2, 8, 11, 15, 16, 30

Best Numbers: 3, 12, 20, 26, 34, 48

SCORPIO: Oct. 24 to Nov. 21 • A double WOW the 9th-10th, with a little help from Venus/Mars/Jupiter. October is beyond "kind" to you—so frequent are your wins and blessings. Exception: 15th-17th is the weekend best avoided. If it's this good in the club, take advantage of the boost in your business!

Best Days: 1, 5, 9, 10, 19, 29

Best Numbers: 2, 6, 18, 23, 31, 46

SAGITTARIUS: Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 •

October treats you decently, but may fall short of coming through big. Better to have things stay on an even keel than to lose your socks trying always to hit the big one. Accept this mediocre cycle and recognize its limitations. Your highest point of luck culminates around the 6th-7th.

Best Days: 2, 6, 7, 11, 15, 30

Best Numbers: 1, 8, 13, 28, 43, 51

CAPRICORN: Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 •

Your car only wants to go to the casino the 1st—glad it'll work out (well) for you! Seems like a lot of dribbling not to make a basket the 6th-8th (better to wait, right?). No go 21st-22nd. There's a wave of luck to catch the 9th and 28th...you game?

Best Days: 1, 5, 9, 14, 19, 28

Best Numbers: 3, 12, 16, 23, 33, 36

AQUARIUS: Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 •

They're sending you off in style the 6th. Enjoy...your winning streak has just begun. But, no deep sea diving, sky diving or gambling 8th-10th. You're back on track and on the take the 11th. Game treats you to a rollercoaster ride 15th-17th, but sets you up high in the end!

Best Days: 6, 7, 11, 15, 17, 25

Best Numbers: 9, 17, 24, 28, 39, 44

PISCES: Feb. 19 to March 20 • Your magnetic charm, optimism, and confidence in your own talent are setting you up to be quite the winner in your chosen place/method of gaming this month. There seems not to be much competition around, and others seemingly step aside while you zoom in to win, over and over.

Best Days: 1, 9, 10, 18, 19, 28

Best Numbers: 2, 13, 22, 30, 38, 45

Lucky Lotto Forecasts for October 2010

ARIES: March 21 to April 19 • A weekend to remember 2nd-3rd (if even only small leaps ahead). On a fast train to nowhere 12th-14th...don't undo what little you've gained. Things are going your way again 15th-17th, or at least not throwing you back each time you edge forward. Back in the saddle ridin' high the 30th!

Best Days: 2, 3, 10, 15, 16, 30

Best Numbers: 7, 12, 15, 24, 38, 55

TAURUS: April 20 to May 20 • Early the 2nd things happen so fast, you marvel at the level you've achieved when barely getting started. Quit early, enjoy your winnings, and save a little to play another day. A day of surprises on the 19th, meant for sharing with a good (water sign) friend who also gets lucky!

Best Days: 1, 2, 5, 13, 19, 29

Best Numbers: 4, 13, 20, 28, 32, 45

GEMINI: May 21 to June 21 • Day starts out good the 5th, giving you more and more the later it gets. Hang it up 7th-8th—not your time. One swanky trick in your back pocket buys you entrance to the game you wanna be in. Your intelligence springs you into new territory (counting again?) the 28th.

Best Days: 2, 5, 10, 19, 23, 28

Best Numbers: 1, 7, 18, 22, 35, 40

Harry Potter stars

■ What are they planning?

Q: I loved to watch actress Mary Astor, who co-starred in the old Humphrey Bogart movies. Can you tell me a little bit about her? —Anna C., Punta Gorda, Fla.

A: Mary, who passed away in 1987 of a heart attack at the age of 81, was in too many films to count, including Meet Me in St. Louis, The Philadelphia Story, Don Juan, The Maltese Falcon and Little Women. She was married four times, and was one of the few lucky actresses who was able to make a successful transition from silent films to "the talkies." Mary Astor was her stage name; her given name was Lucile de Vasconcellos Langhanke.

Q: What do the stars of the Harry Potter series have planned for the future? —George K., Casper, Wyo.

A: I had the chance to speak with the stars when they were in Orlando for the opening of Universal Studio's Wizarding World of Harry Potter. Daniel Radcliffe will be starring on Broadway in How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, and he hopes to continue to hone his singing and dancing skills. Rupert Grint is going the indie route: His new film, Wild Target, recently opened, and he's in pre-production for Eddie the Eagle. Tom Felton might have a bit of revenge in his future. When I asked him about his speech being interrupted at the MTV Movie Awards by Mark Wahlberg and Will Ferrell, he joked: "I just wanted to thank my mum—it took me four tries to get it out! Hopefully one day Will Ferrell will have a big lifetime acceptance speech, and I can swing down from the rafters and mess his speech up."

Late Bingos

■ Lucky they were late!

Dear Aunt Bingo,

Recently I have been finding a new frustrating trend: overlooked Bingos that are being accepted! Why is it that when the next number is called and someone else yells Bingo, and someone is yelling Bingo on the previous number, and then the hall ends up having both players split? I feel as if this is unfair. I have overlooked a Bingo myself, and it is not fair to the other players to claim it when you play more cards than you can watch, and I did not Bingo on my overlook. This is frustrating, and I felt as if this needed to be brought to everyone's attention. —Lindsay, South Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Dear Lindsay,

Until the caller announces that the current game is closed, the hall must recognize any legitimate Bingo, late or not. While I can see why a person would be upset if he or she calls a Bingo and then learns that the pot must be split with someone who called Bingo late, the reality is that if that other person had called on time, the second player wouldn't have gotten any prize money at all!

The real crime would be if the late Bingoer got all the money and the next number called wasn't counted. Then there should be fireworks! —Aunt Bingo

Dear Aunt Bingo,

Please tell me if there is a rule, policy, law, or something against people using their cell phones during a Bingo session! There are a few Bingo halls I like to go to and there is always that one or two people who won't turn their cell phones to vibrate, silent, or just turn them off. The hall announces it at the beginning of the games, but there are always a few who think they are exempt from the rules. When I approach the Bingo workers and mention it, they always say, "Let me know the next time it happens." I think they are afraid of losing clientele. Well, I would think that keeping the ones that don't use cell phones would be more important.

Like I said, it is just a few that can't follow the rules. Let me give you an example: We were playing a special with a lot of games to it. The cell phone of a gentleman sitting at the next table suddenly goes off, he answers it—even though he didn't even know who might be calling—begins a conversation, and I could hear every word. The lady sitting next to him just shook her head. Workers went right by selling tickets and absolutely nothing was done! —Not the Only One Complaining, Michigan

Dear Complaining,

Sorry, but to the best of my knowledge there is no law regarding cell phones in Bingo halls. That's one of those issues the states leave to the individual halls to make policy on. And most halls do have rules about cell phones—just as movie theaters request that people silence their cell phones so they don't disturb the audience watching the film, so, too, do Bingo halls ask patrons to silence their phones so they do not interfere with the games.

This may be the hitch—I don't think a hall can totally ban or remove a cell phone from an individual, because a phone is private property. So the hall is left asking people to be courteous to others and silence their cell phones during the games. Does this mean all patrons will be courteous? Will this rule in fact keep the one or two rude, selfish players who feel their desire to have their phone on is more important than the games or the people around them keep them from being rude and selfish? Nope—just as the gentleman in your hall demonstrated. Frankly, I like it when a cell phone goes off in a crowded setting and someone immediately shouts: "Turn off your damned cell phone!!" It usually gets a few more people to shout something similar, and then the whole room buzzes with distaste. With luck, it embarrasses the dope with the phone and teaches them a lesson once and for all. —Aunt Bingo

■ Digging $47 million out of the trash

Montana Lotto Player Retrieves Winning Ticket From Trash

Six lucky numbers turned into a life-changing, eight-figure payout for a pair of Helena, Montana, residents whose share of a Powerball lotto jackpot will be some $48.5 million. Kim Claassen, 55, and 23-year-old Joe Lamport Jr. have worked together at a healthcare facility for several years, and over that time have intermittently purchased lottery tickets together with the understanding that they would split any winnings. It's the biggest single lotto payout in Montana history, eclipsing a $47 million Lotto America winner sold in Havre, Montana, in 1991. Claassen very nearly let the winning ticket get away. She said she checked the lottery website, and believing her numbers were not winners, tore the ticket into four pieces and threw it away, and sent Lamport a text message saying, "We're not millionaires yet." But Claassen had checked the site before the latest winning numbers had been updated. When a colleague told her that a winning ticket was sold where she had bought her ticket, Claassen fished it out of the trash, pieced it back together and discovered she had the winning numbers. —Helena Independent Record

North Carolina's First Mega Millions Winner

The sole winner of a Mega Millions drawing for $12 million hails from Greensboro, North Carolina, and is the state's first ever Mega Millions winner. Mike Manheim, a retired businessman, and his wife, Faye, made the trip to Raleigh, North Carolina, to claim their millions. The couple told lottery officials they have played the lottery since the North Carolina Education Lottery launched in 2006. The couple chose the lump sum option of $7.8 million. They plan to use their money to invest in the stock market and visit family members across the country in an RV. Since North Carolina joined Mega Millions, the Manheims are the first Mega Millions jackpot winners from a ticket sold in the state. —WFMY-TV, North Carolina

Florida Woman, 35, wins $73.8 Million Powerball Prize

Elizabeth Choras-Hanna, 35, of Hollywood, Florida, is one lucky lady. She played the Florida Lottery and nabbed $73.8 million Powerball jackpot. Choras-Hanna chose a one-time, lump-sum payment for the winnings in the amount of $38,929,055.11. Choras-Hanna is an out-of-work medical assistant. Lottery officials said her twin sister Alexandra, a firefighter and paramedic, and Alexandra's husband, a retired firefighter, accompanied her to claim the prize. The three said they plan to share the money, officials said. "We always go grocery shopping together, and before we leave, we buy one Florida Lotto and one Powerball Quick Pick ticket," Choras-Hanna said. "We decided to pick out a DVD from the movie rental box, and while we were waiting for the movie, I went to buy the tickets. The next day, I checked my tickets and discovered our ticket was the jackpot winner!" —WPBF-TV, Florida

Vacationing Man Wins $1 Million on Scratch-Off Ticket

Most folks pick up a T-shirt or a mug commemorating their vacation, but Wilman Bravo brought home a fat wad of green after winning $1 million on a scratch-off lottery ticket. Bravo, 66, spent 40-plus years raising three children and working as a press operator in central Connecticut before retiring to Puerto Rico last year. He returned to the Constitution State last week to visit his kids. While there, Bravo popped into a convenience store for a cup of coffee and two purple-and-green "$100,000,000 Diamond Mine" lottery tickets. A few scratches later, Bravo experienced a shocking revelation: he'd won $1 million. Bravo may have been overwhelmed, but he's had practice winning the lottery. In 1994, he won $100,000. Bravo chose to take a lump sum rather than payments stretching over two decades. After taxes, his winning check totaled just under $400,000. He said he'll give some to his children, perhaps buy a new car and use the rest to pay off his mortgage. —AOL News
