

the GREAT Relationship you've always wanted

MASTERING MARRIAGE, PARENTING & SELF

jonathan sherman
RELATIONSHIP STRATEGIST & SPEAKER

Jonathan Sherman's Speakers Bio and Intro

Dear Event Organizer:

Different event organizers have different needs, including the length of my bio for various advertising and marketing methods as well as for the introduction. Thus, please feel free to any of these bios "as is" or highlight the key points most relevant to your audience and use as much or as little from these bios as you need.

Please note, my website contains a wealth of information about my training, background, experience, services and seminars offered. I direct you to the following items of interest all of which will help you get a better sense for my style and approach:

- My vita: MarriageEnvy.com/vita
- FAQ: MarriageEnvy.com/blog
- Seminars & Workshops: MarriageEnvy.com/seminars
- The GREAT Relationships Blog: MarriageEnvy.com/blog
- Articles: MarriageEnvy.com/articles

I am looking forward to the event. Please feel free to call me directly at 801.787.8014 or email me at Jonathan@MarriageEnvy.com if you have any questions.

Best,

Jonathan D. Sherman, LMFT
Relationship Strategist (Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist) and Speaker

the GREAT Relationship you've always wanted

MASTERING MARRIAGE, PARENTING & SELF

jonathon sherman
RELATIONSHIP STRATEGIST & SPEAKER

Jonathan Sherman's Speakers Bio and Intro

The Mini Bio

Jonathan is a tactical relationship strategist (licensed marriage and family therapist) and speaker who specializes in helping people and organizations achieve true and lasting greatness in their relationships through marriage, parenting and self-mastery. More info at MarriageEnvy.com

the GREAT Relationship you've always wanted

MASTERING MARRIAGE, PARENTING & SELF

jonathan sherman
RELATIONSHIP STRATEGIST & SPEAKER

Jonathan Sherman's Speakers Bio and Intro

The Brief Bio

Jonathan Sherman, LMFT is a Relationship Strategist (Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist), sought-out speaker, and all-around swell-fella. He is the president of Jonathan Sherman, International and MarriageEnvy.com.

In the face of daunting divorce statistics, Jonathan specializes in helping motivated people just like you defy the odds by creating true and lasting greatness in their relationships. He teaches individuals, couples, and organizations how to transform their marriages, develop parenting finesse, and achieve self-mastery.

Jonathan says, "Every day I get to witness courageous people challenge themselves and achieve the kind of greatness that before they only dreamed of. Man, I love my job!"

He is married to a lovely and skilled husband trainer who has truly earned her keep. They live in eternal bliss (okay, fairly peaceably) with their four children in the Rocky Mountains of Utah. You may reach him at MarriageEnvy.com. He'd love to hear from you.

the GREAT Relationship you've always wanted

MASTERING MARRIAGE, PARENTING & SELF

jonathon sherman
RELATIONSHIP STRATEGIST & SPEAKER

Jonathan Sherman's Speakers Bio and Intro

The Full Bio

Jonathan Sherman, LMFT is a Relationship Strategist (Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist) and Speaker specializing in "creating greatness in relationships." He is the president of Jonathan Sherman, International and MarriageEnvy.com.

His three main areas of focus are self-mastery, couple's work, and parent training. He assists people in learning how to improve their marriages, their parenting and themselves through skill development, life coaching, overcoming depression and anxiety, stress and anger management, and addiction recovery. He speaks and teaches extensively on a wide range of relationship topics in both the community and professional sectors.

Jonathan was previously the Director of Training and Development for PeopleSmarts—a leadership development firm specializing in the field of emotional intelligence. Further, he was the Youth Substance Abuse Coordinator for Valley Mental Health in Summit County, UT and an instructor for the State of Utah's Shared Parenting Course for Divorcing Parents. His background includes residential addiction treatment, domestic violence perpetrator and victim treatment, at-risk youth services, and home-based family therapy services.

He has written over a hundred articles for his GREAT Relationships newspaper column and blog and has developed numerous products for professionals and lay people alike. He was awarded the Outstanding Education Award by The Utah Behavioral Healthcare Network for "recognition of outstanding efforts in presenting the public with accurate, meaningful and current information about mental illness." Further, he has been nominated for the WEGO Health Activist Award.

He works closely with civic and community leaders in crafting solutions to strengthen marriages and families in the community through providing consulting on best outreach practices. Further, he founded The Relationship Mastery Series™ workshops designed to strengthen families and enrich our community.

He has worked with school districts and educators in creating effective solutions to difficult behavioral and emotional problems with their students. He has developed the Be the Answer: Solutions to Bullying™ prevention and intervention program modeled on evidence- and researched-based solutions. He conducts teacher training and school assemblies on this and other topics such as the popular Parenting with Love & Logic curriculum.

Jonathan did his undergraduate work in Family Sciences at Brigham Young University and his master's work in Marriage and Family Therapy at Northern Illinois University.

He is married to a lovely and skilled husband trainer who has truly earned her keep. They live in eternal bliss (okay, fairly peaceably) with their four children in the Rocky Mountains of Utah.

Jonathan has been passionately educating individuals, couples, families and groups about building strong families and creating great relationships since 1993.

jonathan sherman
RELATIONSHIP STRATEGIST & SPEAKER

the GREAT Relationship you've always wanted

MASTERING MARRIAGE, PARENTING & SELF

Jonathan Sherman's Speakers Bio and Intro

The Full Bio (For LDS Audiences)

Jonathan Sherman, LMFT is a Relationship Strategist (Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist) and Speaker specializing in "creating greatness in relationships." He is the president of Jonathan Sherman, International and MarriageEnvy.com.

His three main areas of focus are self-mastery, couple's work, and parent training. He assists people in learning how to improve their marriages, their parenting and themselves through skill development, life coaching, overcoming depression and anxiety, stress and anger management, and addiction recovery. He speaks and teaches extensively on a wide range of relationship topics in both the community and professional sectors.

Jonathan was previously the Director of Training and Development for PeopleSmarts—a leadership development firm specializing in the field of emotional intelligence. Further, he was the Youth Substance Abuse Coordinator for Valley Mental Health in Summit County, UT and an instructor for the State of Utah's Shared Parenting Course for Divorcing Parents. His background includes residential addiction treatment, domestic violence perpetrator and victim treatment, at-risk youth services, and home-based family therapy services.

He has written over a hundred articles for his GREAT Relationships newspaper column and blog and has developed numerous products for professionals and lay people alike. He was awarded the Outstanding Education Award by The Utah Behavioral Healthcare Network for "recognition of outstanding efforts in presenting the public with accurate, meaningful and current information about mental illness." Further, he has been nominated for the WEGO Health Activist Award.

He works closely with civic and community leaders in crafting solutions to strengthen marriages and families in the community through providing consulting on best outreach practices. Further, he founded The Relationship Mastery Series™ workshops designed to strengthen families and enrich our community.

He has worked with school districts and educators in creating effective solutions to difficult behavioral and emotional problems with their students. He has developed the Be the Answer: Solutions to Bullying™ prevention and intervention program modeled on evidence- and researched-based solutions. He conducts teacher training and school assemblies on this and other topics such as the popular Parenting with Love & Logic curriculum.

Jonathan did his undergraduate work in Family Sciences at Brigham Young University and his master's work in Marriage and Family Therapy at Northern Illinois University.

Jonathan served a mission with the Hmong in the California Sacramento Mission. He has served in many callings over the years and is currently serving as Priest Quorum Advisor in the American Fork 9th Ward.

He is married to a lovely and skilled husband trainer who has truly earned her keep. They live in eternal bliss (okay, fairly peaceably) with their four children in the Rocky Mountains of Utah.

Jonathan has been passionately educating individuals, couples, families and groups about building strong families and creating great relationships since 1993.