THE AWAKENING

APRIL 26th | 7 PM | WOWK BUILDING
555 5th Avenue, Huntington (Kindred Capital Building)

“The Awakening” Spreading Throughout Region

Next, we want to tell you all about the increased demand for “The Awakening.” If you have been to one of these services in Huntington, you will understand that these events are impacting the area and creating a stir in the atmosphere, so much so that we have been meeting and planning with other visionaries, not only holding more of them in the city of Huntington, but also in Ironton, Louisa, Prestonsburg, and even down into parts of North Carolina! We will keep everyone updated regarding times and locations through the newsletter and website (kevinwest.org). Right now, the next “Awakening” event is April 26th, 7PM at the WOWK Building (Kindred Capital Building). Mark your calendar. We’d love to see you at these services!

The Journey Continues

Finally, we want to share what has happened and outline where we’re going. We are actively pressing these matters in prayer and walking them out with wisdom. My tenure as executive pastor at Christ Temple Church has just now come to an end. What a wonderful season it has been. Because the ministry opportunities I had been receiving from different people and places were quickly overwhelming my duties in my role at CTC, Pastor Chuck and I decided it would be best for me to launch out into the ministry wholeheartedly with their prayers and support! As you can imagine, we’re extremely excited about this new season.

of knowledge, connections, and vision that we do not want to take lightly, but actively pursue what God is speaking into us. We ask you to join with us in prayer as we begin framing and defining the next step of this journey God is awakening within us. This summer is going to be quite busy, launching new productions with a new frame of mind, to prepare for what we hear God telling us to launch into in the Fall of 2013. We intend to keep everyone updated and clear on this new direction and the exciting awakening God has placed within us. We can’t deny the amazing favor and anointing He has placed on our lives, and we are driven daily to unlock the destiny that lies in every single individual we come in contact with.

So join us! Interact with us on the web. Be awakened to what God is doing in the atmosphere in this new season with us!

Blessings, – Kevin West

We have been meeting with those who share our vision and receiving wise counsel about the direction of our ministry network. We’ve been entrusted with a wellspring

Has anyone else been watching the new series “The Bible,” on the History Channel? Last week we watched Abraham, the leader of his own small tribe, and family go out from among his larger group of families and tribes when he heard the voice of God. In a brutal, uncertain culture, the voice of clarity coming from the maker of the Heavens and Earth had chosen this man, Abraham, our father of faith, and made a promise that, from him, would come many nations and children as numerous as the stars.

Yes, that was the beginning for the Jews, God’s “favorite people,” according to the story. It’s the beginning of our story, too. Abraham is our father of faith. And we, even more than the Hebrew people, are the descendants of Abraham in spirit. God has written His promises and new covenant on our hearts, and we live in fellowship with Him through faith, just as Abraham did before the written law was given to Moses.

In Hebrews 11, Paul reminds us that Abraham left, seeking a place where the foundation of the city was built and made by God. What would such a place look like? Would it be Phoenician in architecture? Would it be like the Hittites’ homes? Certainly not. Abraham didn’t know. He only knew that he was going into the unknown, looking for something he’d never seen before, but once he arrived, he would know it would be from his God, the One God, whom he served.

There is a divine calling within each of us that mirrors our faith father, Abraham, and he received this desire from His Father and maker, the One God. We are driven to create something new and inspired by God in an unknown place where no men have ever gone before. Think of the possibilities! Our souls cry out for the glory of achieving something supernatural that can only be inspired from and felt by the power of God. We long to bravely go into this unknown place with the only One who can take us there, and the rewards are gloriously entwined in deep intimacy with Him; trusting Him, letting Him lead us, building and creating us to His specifications; one piece at a time.

God has written His promises and new covenant on our heart, and we live in fellowship with Him through faith, just as Abraham did before the written law was given to Moses.

We will never be satisfied, truly, with the results of the church today if we continue to just do the same thing the same Way we’ve always done. We’re kidding ourselves if we even think it smells, tastes, or feels like what we’ve experienced before. We won’t get to this new place in Him, the place He’s calling us to if we’re sure that we know all the answers all by ourselves and can even compare it to what “has been.” He WILL call each of us out of our comfort zones to bring forth the kingdom of God, whose foundation and builder is God Himself, because we are created for nothing less. It is our destiny as children of Abraham.

The next time you are challenged to think beyond what you have already learned, what you think is “safe doctrine,” or “fundamental ways” of “doing church,” remember your faith father, Abraham. The seasons of change are blowing across the church in the world today, and we can choose to remain in our tents or listen closely to the voice of the One leading us. It has never been more important to hear and to know where God is going today, because it is definitely somewhere other than where we are right now.
