LOVE STORY

The classic, Great Expectations may have been the inspiration for these nuptials, but it is also true of their first encounters. Meeting the last day of finals freshman year, Amanda and Trevor, decidedly named the 'designated drivers' by their respective friends, spent the night enamored by each other. Inseparable ever since, their first date would ironically be interrupted with an unforeseen automobile accident, proving to Amanda that she was in love with this man, who cared more for her safety than the calamity afforded to his car. His proposal would come 2 years later on the anniversary of this magical night, when they both knew that they would be together forever.
