Go Up a Level

Design Competition

An exciting opportunity for exposure at one of London's top audio-visual post production facilities!

We believe in unearthing levels of potential that may not always be immediately evident and have setup a fantastic competition to reflect this.

Our brief is for any budding artist, designer or illustrator is to come up with an original design to be artworked straight onto the walls of our main thoroughfare hallway.

Entrance to First Floor Reception

Cinema Dolby 5.1 Surround Sound Studio to Graphic Studios

The top prize will arrest our clients upon their entrance to the premises and captivate their attention all the way to our first floor reception and second floor landing. The runner-up artwork will captivate an audience heading from the impressive newly installed Dolby surround sound mixing suite to our graphics and editing studios.

There is also a cash prize: £500 cash for top prize and £300 for the runner-up.

We'd like to see a conception page full of your notes, sketches, ideas, thoughts, doodles...anything that brought you to your final piece. Then one EPS file with the artwork placed in situ using the attached templates (if you can) or something as close to this as you can.

To enter please send a ZIP or SIT file to info@factory.uk.com (max file size 7mb).

Entries must be received by 4th September 2010 and winning artwork to be created onto internal walls by 8th October 2010.

For more about our terms and conditions for entry see attached.

We really look forward to hearing from you!
