

FD Campbell Memorial Library
Storytime Activities for Home
Expanding Phonological Awareness

Today we read Llama, Llama Time to Share, by Anna Dewdney. As we shared the book and looked back through it, we played with sounds and words that rhyme throughout the story. Rhyming helps your child develop the ability to hear the smaller sounds in words which in turn will help him or her sound out words when (s)he begins to learn to read.

Use the pictures below as a matching game or as a starter for thinking of other words and sounds that rhyme with the pictures.

