Messages from our kids: about this weeks parsha

Bechukotai has 2 main themes: blessings and curses; and the payment of vows. God promises Bnei Israel that if they follow his rules, God will bless them. But if they don't follow his rules, God will make them suffer, starve them and make them sick. God told Moshe to tell Bnei Israel that if anyone vowed the value of someone else, a scale would be applied and the people would have to pay 3-50 shekels depending on their age. BY SAMUEL

This weeks parsha is called bechukotai. In this weeks parsha hashem gives us laws to do with; Kedsuha , Dinim Mishkan, korbanim and kohanim. Hashem promises us that if we do good deeds we will see something new in the field and the rain will fall at the proper time. We won't know it now we wont know it then why do we need to know it again and again. I'll tell you why we need to know it because when the Beit hamikdash comes we will be prepared for it. Ktoret
