

NashvilleEventLighting.com

Nashville Event Lighting is an event supply company that needed a new website and online marketing strategy. Their main goals were to create a professional, easy to use site that would attract qualified leads.

Nashville Event Lighting hired Jake Jorgovan for the job. The end result was a professional, mobile and easy to maintain website. Jake now maintains the site as well as handles Nashville Event Lighting's online marketing efforts.

Client Testimonial

“It feels a lot less like we hired somebody, and more like we got to work with a friend who cares about us. Jake is family now, and I trust him. You can too.”
