CAMPBELL SALGADO STUDIO FACT SHEET

About Campbell Salgado Studio: Campbell Salgado Studio is a trend-setting Oregon-based photography studio with an international clientele. Situated in a lovingly restored century-old building with an attached portrait garden, Campbell Salgado Studio helps families record the special moments of their lives through breathtakingly beautiful photography.

Client Base: Primarily, but not limited to, families

Products/Services: In-studio Original Portraits™, in-home Vignettes™ documentary-style photography, and El Corazon™ fine art photography for children.

History: Husband-and-wife team Francisco Salgado and Kim Campbell met as students at the University of Oregon and went on to found Campbell Salgado Studio in 1995. While they initially photographed a wide range of subjects, they soon found a niche with pregnancy portraiture. When formerly expectant mothers began returning to the studio with infants in tow, a new specialty was born: family portraits. Since then, Campbell Salgado Studio has catered to expectant and growing families, providing both in-studio and in-home portrait photography services. Crafting a comfortable environment that puts people at ease and pleases the senses is one of the hallmarks of their studio.

The Photographers: Born in Mexico City, Mexico, Francisco Salgado arrived in the United States in 1985 and soon earned both a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Photography and a Master's of Fine Arts degree in Sculpture from the University of Oregon. His wife and business partner, Kim Campbell, was born in Portland, Oregon and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy from the University of Oregon, and a Master's degree in Art Therapy from Marylhurst University.

Francisco is a past recipient of the prestigious Jan Zach Award for sculpture, and his photography and sculpture have been exhibited internationally. Kim's award-winning photography has been featured Popular Photography, Shots and American Photo magazines. Together, Francisco and Kim have received widespread acclaim for their Campbell Salgado portraiture. Locally, they have been dubbed "Best Mom 'n' Pop Photographers" by Willamette Week, and their studio was named "Audience Choice" winner in the Best of Citysearch awards.
