

MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY

Marquette University's Department of Theology announces two positions in systematic and constructive theology to begin 16 August 2007. The desirable candidates will have competencies in one or more of the following areas: hermeneutics/post modern theology, global/contextual theologies, and theological aesthetics and/or von Balthasar. Open rank.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in theology along with a record of scholarly publication and university teaching. Research scholarship and publication plans are required. Responsibilities include teaching five courses per year, including general introductory courses at the undergraduate level and specialized courses at the graduate level.

Candidates must support the Catholic and Jesuit ideals and mission of the University. Minorities and women strongly encouraged to apply.

Review of applications will begin on 12 October, 2006, and will continue until positions are filled.

Complete credentials, including letter of application, c.v., and letters of recommendation, should be sent to:
