WELCOME TO THE ESPN RISE NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL INVITATIONAL

Welcome to the third annual ESPN RISE National High School Invitational. Thank you for joining us here at Georgetown Prep, outside of Washington D.C. in North Bethesda, MD.

We anticipate some exciting and outstanding competition to be displayed by some of the top girls' and boys' high school basketball teams in the country.

We'd like to welcome back the 2009 and 2010 ESPN RISE National High School Invitational Champions, Findlay Prep (NV), who will try to three-peat at this year's tournament. We would also like to welcome back Oak Hill Academy (VA), the 2009 runner-up and last year's participant, Winter Park (FL), a 2010 participant, Montrose Christian (MD), a 2009 participant and a local favorite, and Riverdale Baptist (MD), runner-up in the 2009 girls' division. We'd also like to extend a special welcome to our first-timers Dwyer (FL), United Faith Christian Academy (NC), Boys & Girls (NY), John Carroll (MD), Hollywood Christian (FL), Archbishop Spalding (MD), Dr. Phillips (FL) and Murry Bergtraum (NY).

Our continued goal at ESPN RISE for events like this is to engage and inspire student athletes to reach higher. We will continue to be at the center of teen athletes' lives no matter where they are; through stories that inspire them, communities that connect them and tools that elevate their games.

This event is one of more than 160 events we produce annually, which include: Elite 11, Elite 24, Area Code Baseball, Nike Combines/Nike Football Training Camps, ESPN RISE Games (Champion Gridiron Kings, Under Armour All America Softball) and Warrior 40.

On behalf of the entire ESPN family, we would like to extend special thanks to all the high schools, coaches, players, administrators and associations for participating in this year's tournament. To our host Georgetown Prep and to the event's co-producer, Paragon Marketing Group, thank you for your continued assistance in making this a first-class event!

Enjoy the competition!!!

#1 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 3 Montrose Christian (MD)

Coach: Stu Vetter

Key Player: Justin Anderson

Justin Anderson is considered one of the most athletic and aggressive small forwards in the 2012 class, ranked #51 in the ESPN Super 60. A member of the gold-medal winning USA Basketball Men's U16 and U17 National Teams, Anderson is a fierce competitor who can score from anywhere on the court.

ROAD TO NHSI

At #3 in the ESPN RISE FAB50, Montrose Christian comes into the NHSI as the number one seed in the tournament. Though the Mustangs are a young team, that didn't stop them from playing a challenging schedule and incurring only one loss on the year. Stu Vetter's squad delivered notable wins over Oak Hill Academy (VA), Findlay Prep (NV), and Arlington Country Day (FL) and are ranked number one in the Washington D.C. area. In addition to Anderson, the team features Villanova-bound senior guard Tyrone Johnson (#71 ESPN 100), a talented playmaker with terrific size and strength.

OAK HILL ACADEMY (MOUTH OF WILSON, VA) • 27-3

42	Damien Wilson	G	Jr	6-05	185

#2 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 5 Oak Hill Academy (VA)

Coach: Steve Smith

Key Player: Quinn Cook

2011 McDonald's All-American Quinn Cook is the heartbeat of this Warriors' team, averaging 20.1 points and 10.5 assists per game. Headed to Duke in the fall, the senior point guard is ranked #39 in the ESPNU Top 100 and is potent when the game is on the line. He was a member of the USA Basketball Men's U16 and U17 National Teams that won world championships in Argentina and Germany.

ROAD TO NHSI

Oak Hill Academy comes to this year's tournament ranked as the #5 team in the ESPN RISE FAB50. The Warriors ended their season 29-3, notching big wins against Montverde Academy (FL), Arlington Country Day (FL), and Memphis Melrose (TN). Home to alumni such as Carmelo Anthony, Kevin Durant and Rajon Rondo, Oak Hill has three Division I commits on their roster. In addition to Cook, seniors Keith Hornsby and Daniel Gomis are headed to the University of North Carolina-Asheville and Oregon State University, respectively.

33	Landen Lucas	C	Jr	6-09	250

#3 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 7 Findlay Prep (NV)

Coach: Mike Peck

Key Player: Myck Kabongo

Ranked #9 overall and #2 by position in the ESPNU Top 100, senior point guard Myck Kabongo is a nightmare for defenses in transition. Quick with the basketball and a consistent 3-point shooter, Kabongo averaged 17.1 points and 6.0 assists per game as a senior. The 2011 McDonald's All-American is headed to the University of Texas to play his college ball.

ROAD TO NHSI

The Pilots of Findlay Prep come to NHSI as the two-time defending champions and look to make it three in a row at this year's tournament. Ranked #7 in the ESPN RISE FAB50, the team features three players rated in the ESPNU Top 100. In addition to Kabongo, this talented team includes University of Arizona-bound Nick Johnson (#23 ESPNU 100) and St. John's-bound Amir Garrett (#95 ESPNU 100). Although the Pilots incurred three losses this year, Michael Peck's squad ended Texas powerhouse Yates' 66-game win streak in December and won the prestigious Montverde Academy Invitational tournament in January.

#4 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 15 Winter Park (FL)

Coach: David Bailey

Key Player: Austin Rivers

Son of Boston Celtics coach Doc Rivers, Austin Rivers is rated the number one player in high school basketball. Headed to Duke in the fall, he holds the top spot in the ESPNU 100 and is a 2011 McDonald's All-American, 2011 Jordan Brand All-American, the 2011 Naismith Player of the Year, and the 2011 Morgan Wootten Player of the Year. Rivers' averaged 28.8 points as a senior and put himself in the history books as Winter Park's all-time leading scorer with over 2,900 career points.

ROAD TO NHSI

Ranked #15 in the ESPN RISE FAB 50, Winter Park comes to NHSI hot off their second consecutive 6A state championship. The title was the second in Winter Park history and was the first time in central Florida that a 6A school won back-to-back championships. David Bailey's Wildcats recorded several big wins this season against Dr. Phillips (FL), Montverde Academy (FL), and Dwyer (FL).

#5 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 24 Boys & Girls (NY)

Coach: Ruth Lovelace

Key Player: Michael Taylor

The Rutgers-bound 6-foot-3 guard is one of the best pure shooters to come out of New York City in recent years. Taylor has led Boys & Girls to two consecutive PSAL titles and can hit the mid-range jumper as well as the three beyond the arc. He's an aggressive player that's capable of an instant hot streak.

ROAD TO NHSI

Boys & Girls enter the NHSI 24-6 and are fresh off winning their second consecutive Public Schools Athletic League Class AA title under head coach Ruth Lovelace. Boys & Girls knocked off several nationally ranked teams, including Winter Park (FL) and Academy of the New Church (PA). In addition to Taylor, the Kangaroos rely heavily on 5-foot-4 senior point guard and floor general Antione Slaughter, a competitive and athletic leader who was named MVP of the Class AA championship game.

#6 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 16 Dwyer (FL)

Coach: Fred Ross

Key Player: Jacoby Brissett

Panther guard Jacoby Brissett is a gifted athlete who not only plays all five positions on the basketball court but multiple sports as well. Brissett will attend the University of Florida on a football scholarship, and the senior has led this Dwyer basketball team to their 32-1 record. He averaged 15.5 points and 3.1 steals per game.

ROAD TO NHSI

Fresh off a 5A state championship title, Dwyer comes to this year's tournament ranked #16 in the ESPN RISE FAB 50. The state title was the third for coach Fred Ross, who was named Coach of the Year by the Florida Association of Basketball Coaches. The Panther's only loss this season came at the hands of Winter Park in the City of Palms Tournament in December. In addition to Brissett, the team also features junior center Joell James (#33 ESPNU Super 60). The left-handed post player is a solid rebounder and is highly ranked amongst centers in the 2012 class.

#7 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 31 United Faith Christian Academy (NC)

Coach: Shaun Wiseman

Key Player: Braxton Ogbueze

Braxton Ogbueze is a junior point guard ranked #43 in the ESPNU Class of 2012 Super 60. Committed to the University of Florida, he averages 19.3 points per game and is dangerous out behind the 3-point arc. His ball quickness and strength make him one of the superior point guards in the 2012 class.

ROAD TO NHSI

United Faith Christian Academy comes to the NHSI ranked #31 in the ESPN RISE FAB 50. North Carolina Independent Schools Athletic Association 1A champions two of the last three years, the Falcons were prone to multiple injuries this year but still managed to finish 31-7. They won the Chik-fil-A Classic tournament in December and in January, they were the first team out of Charlotte to beat Oak Hill Academy. In addition to Ogbueze, United Faith features senior Paris Roberts-Campbell, who is headed to East Carolina, senior Lawrence Miller, who will play his college basketball at The Citadel, and junior Peter Jurkin, who is committed to Indiana.

35	Denzel Varner	F	Jr	6-04	255

#8 Seed: John Carroll (MD)

Coach: Tony Martin

Key Player: Jarred Jones

Junior forward Jarred Jones is a smart player who can do it all. In addition to having the ability to guard all five positions, Jones can handle the ball, go inside, and shoot beyond the perimeter. He's averaging 15.2 points and 2.9 steals per game and was named first team in both the MIAA-A Conference and Baltimore Catholic League.

ROAD TO NHSI

After gaining entry into the prestigious Baltimore Catholic League this year, John Carroll proved they belonged by winning both the league title as well as the Maryland Interscholastic Athletic Association A Conference title at the end of this 2011 season. The Patriots beat top-rated St. Frances for the third and fourth times this season in both title games, with a squad that contains significant talent in the freshmen and sophomore classes. In addition to Jones, John Carroll features two top-notch seniors: Central Connecticut State-commit Malcolm McMillian and Ronald Scott.

#1 Seed: Archbishop Spalding (MD)

Coach: Bill Rosemond

Key Player: Maggie Morrison

Headed to Vanderbilt in the fall, senior Maggie Morrison leads this Archbishop Spalding squad. The point guard tallied 19 points in the IAAM-A title game, including the last five to give the Cavaliers the 53-48 win over Set Keough (MD). This multi-sport athlete is an unselfish player that rises to the occasion; the bigger the stage, the better she plays.

ROAD TO NHSI

Archbishop Spalding is hot off a win in the Interscholastic Athletic Association of Maryland-A title game. The team features three seniors with over 1,000 career points and six players who all average between nine and eleven points per game, combining for a balance that is unlike any other team in the tournament. In addition to Morrison, the Cavaliers boast three other seniors who will play Division I basketball beginning next year: Brya Freeland (Lafayette), Shaquilla Curtis (American University), and Sherae Swinson (Binghamton).

32	Rebecca Lyttle	G	Jr	5-11

#2 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 36 Hollywood Christian (FL)

Coach: Carlos Adamson

Key Player: Rebecca Lyttle

A junior committed to the University of Michigan, Rebecca Lyttle is Hollywood Christian's leading scorer, averaging 13.1 points per game and is their best defensive player. She had a team-high 28 points and 9 rebounds in the state 1A title game and was named the Most Valuable Player at three of the team's tournaments throughout the season. Her ability to set up an offense and create opportunities for her teammates makes Hollywood Christian tough to beat.

ROAD TO NHSI

After losing the 1A state championship last year by only 3 points, Hollywood Christian came back this year to beat Trinity Christian Academy for the school's first ever state 1A title. The Eagles finished the season 31-1, playing what was arguably one of the toughest schedules in the state of Florida. Carlos Adamson's squad enters NHSI ranked #36 in the ESPN RISE FAB 50.

#3 Seed: Murry Bergtraum (NY)

Coach: Ed Grezinsky

Key Player: Ashley Gomez

The driving force behind this Murry Bergtraum Team, Gomez is a five-foot-seven senior point guard who looks to pass first but can also score when needed. She is the team's leader on the court and will be playing her college ball at Canisius. She scored 13 points and grabbed 8 rebounds in the Lady Blazers' PSAL Class AA championship game and was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

ROAD TO NHSI

After losing seven seniors – four of which were starters – to graduation, the buzz around New York City was that this year would finally be the year that Murry Bergtraum would be vulnerable. But this group had other ideas. Benefiting from stellar team chemistry, the Lady Blazers squad finished the year 22-3, defeating South Shore 56-48 at Madison Square Garden earlier this month to earn their thirteenth straight Public Schools Athletic League Class AA championship. They will be heading to the New York State Federation Tournament at the end of March to compete for their sixth Federation title under Grezinsky.

#4 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 11 Riverdale Baptist (MD)

Coach: Diane Richardson

Key Player: Tyonna Williams

Temple-bound Tyonna Williams is a quick, penetrating guard that gets past defenders with ease. Standing just five-foot-seven, Williams also possesses a solid jump shot that she can knock down as defenses shift and rotate. She's the Crusader's leader on the court and made the All-Tournament team at the Nike Tournament of Champions earlier this season.

ROAD TO NHSI

At #11 in the ESPN RISE FAB50, Riverdale Baptist heads into the NHSI as the highest ranked girls' team in the FAB50. The Crusaders played one of the toughest schedules in the country and ended the season 30-4, delivering wins over nationally ranked teams such as St. Johns (Washington, D.C.). With four Division I commits on their roster, Riverdale Baptist handed Potter's House Christian (FL) their only loss on the year and won the OP Tip Off Tournament in December and the More Than Basketball tournament in January. In addition to the Temple-bound Williams, the Crusaders feature UMBC-bound senior Lauren Chase, Clemson-bound senior Deja Hawkins, and Georgetown-commit junior Diana Logan.

32	Stephanie Ratliff	C	So	6-03

#5 Seed: ESPN RISE FAB 50 No. 44 Dr. Phillips (FL)

Coach: Anthony Jones

Key Player: Sydnei McCaskill

Sophomore team captain Sydnei McCaskill is one of the premiere guards in the state of Florida. An excellent defender and a focal point of the Panther offense, McCaskill averaged 12.4 points and 6.5 assists per game this year. She led the team and county in 3-point baskets as a freshman, and this year has played a key leadership role for this Panther team.

ROAD TO NHSI

Though they have the youngest roster in the NHSI tournament, Dr. Phillips comes to North Bethesda ranked #44 in the ESPN RISE FAB 50. They're stacked with freshmen and sophomores, but that hasn't stopped the Panthers from claiming the FHSAA Class 6A state title, the Peach State Holiday Invitational championship, and the Florida Prospect's Holiday Tournament throughout their 2010-11 season. The team is currently riding a 15-game win streak and, in addition to McCaskill, features freshman guard Taryn Griffey, the Panther's leading scorer with 15.1 points per game and the daughter of former major leaguer Ken Griffey Jr.
